

Nominations Sought for Clean Air Awards Ports to honor businesses for exemplary green efforts

May 4, 2011

The ports of Long Beach and Los Angeles are seeking nominations for the Fourth Annual San Pedro Bay Ports Clean Air Action Plan Air Quality Awards, in which the ports each year recognize the efforts of port-related businesses that go above and beyond air quality requirements. Nominations are due by May 13, 2011, and award recipients will be recognized this summer.

Nominations will be accepted for port tenants operating at either port as well as other operators serving the ports (shipping lines, trucking companies, rail operators) who have demonstrated a strong commitment to reducing air pollution during 2010.

Only port tenants and other operators that serve the ports are eligible for this program; technology vendors are not eligible. Self-nominations will also be accepted.

Awards will be offered in four categories:

- Air Quality Improvement Leadership at the Corporate Level
- Innovative Air Quality Improvement Technologies
- Innovative Operations that Improve Air Quality
- Significant Early Action to Reduce Air Pollutant Emissions

Nominations should include detailed information about the candidate's clean air efforts. Nominations are due by 4 p.m., May 13, 2011.
